BY LBJ'S RIOT COMMISSIONNegro Guardsmen Wanted

By ROBERT B. SEMPLE JR.

(C) N.Y. Times News Service

WASHINGTON — The President's Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders recommended yesterday an immediate, substantial increase in the number of Negroes in the Army National Guard and the Air National Guard.

In a letter to President Johnson, the commission pointed out that at the end of last year Negroes made up only 1.15 per cent of the officers and enlisted men in the Army National Guard — 4,638 out of 404,996 — and only 0.6 per cent of the officers and airmen in the Air National Guard — 475 out of 80,822.

"The commission believes strongly," the letter declared, "that this deficiency must be corrected as soon as possible. To do so will require the combined efforts of the Department of Defense, state officials and the Negro community."

The recommendation was one of three suggestions aimed at improving the capacity of the National Guard to deal with riots in the cities. The 11-man group also urged quick improvements in riot-control training for the guard and a thorough review of procedures used for appointing and promoting officers.

Johnson, who received the recommendations yesterday morning, forwarded them immediately to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara with the following message: "As you are well aware, this is a matter of the highest urgency and I know you will give it your immediate attention."

The three recommendations were the first concrete proposals to emerge from the commission, appointed by the President in the wake of the Detroit riots to find the causes and suggest cures for civil disorder. The commission is scheduled to make its first interim report March 1, 1968, and its final report next July 29. However, when questioned by newsmen earlier this week, the commission's chairman, Illinois Governor Otto Kerner, indicated that his group felt free to make periodic reports to the President on matters of special urgency.

David Ginsburg, executive director of the commission, said the group had approved the three recommendations unanimously after hearing lengthy testimony in closed sessions from Cyrus Vance, special assistant to McNamara.

Another Overlook Added to Forest

By TOM CURTIN

A $50,000 overlook was dedicated near Tidoute last evening, adding another recreation spot to the Allegheny National Forest and the Warren area.

The Tidoute Overlook was formally turned over to the Sheffield Ranger District by assistant superintendent of the Allegheny National Forest Don Gorton. The dedication, which took place at 7 p.m., consisted of the cutting of branches by Alfred Gray, a Job Corpsman from Tennessee. Alfred represented Job Corps boys who did much of the work in preparing the overlook for public use.

The dedication was preceded by a picnic dinner at the site with representatives from the following organizations in attendance: the Allegheny National Forest, the Blue Jay Job Corps Center, the Tidoute Chamber of Commerce, Warren Chamber of Commerce, Warren County Development Association, Kinzua Dam Vacation Bureau and the Warren Co. AAA.

The dedication ceremonies were emceed by LeRoy Schneck of WNAE. Brief addresses in praise of the work done by the Job Corps, the people of Tidoute and the cooperation of the forestry were given by Jim King of the Tidoute Chamber of Commerce; Lee Sutton, Deputy Director for Works of the Blue Jay Job Corps Center; and Donald Gorton, assistant supervisor of the Allegheny National Forest.

U.S. Crime Rate Soars Upward, Reports Hoover

WASHINGTON — Serious crimes reported to police last year totaled 3,243,400, up 11.4 per cent over 1965, while the percentage of these crimes solved or cleared from police records by arrests dropped 8 per cent, the Federal Bureau of Investigation reported yesterday.

FBI director J. Edgar Hoover, in a statement released with the FBI's Uniform Crime Reports for 1966, said a rise in the crime rate, restrictions on police investigation and enforcement practices, and increased mobility of criminals were factors contributing to the decrease in percentage of crimes solved. The FBI report said that the 8 per cent drop was equal to the drop for the entire period from 1961 to 1965.

Pick Local Man Unanimously for GOP Nomination

By FRANKLIN R. HOFF

William F. Clinger Jr. of Warren County and Victor Westerberg of McKean County were elected on the first ballot as nominees for the Republican Party to appear on the ballot in the November election as candidates for the Pennsylvania Constitutional Convention. The third candidate was Alvin Kahl of Venango County.

The 26 conferees from Elk, McKean, Forest, Venango and Warren counties, representing the 25th State Senatorial district, voted unanimously for William Clinger. All but the nine conferees from Venango County voted for Victor Westerberg. The vote was: Clinger 26; Westerberg 17, and Kahl 9. Fourteen votes were required to elect a nominee.

Acting for Pennsylvania State Republican chairman, Jack Jordan, Senator Richard Frame opened the session. W. L. King of Tionesta, Forest County Republican chairman, and that county's sole conferee, president, Katherine Baur of Elk County acted as secretary.

Elk County had four conferees, Forest one, McKean seven, Venango nine and Warren five. Merle E. Dickinson of Smithport, a McKean County conferree, nominated Assemblyman Victor Westerberg.

William E. Breene of Venango County nominated Alvin Kahl.

David Swanson, attorney and republican state committeeman from Warren County, nominated William F. Clinger Jr.

All five Republican County Chairmen attended as conferees: Merle E. Dickinson, McKean; W. L. King, Forest; John C. Kosco, Elk; Senator Richard Frame, Venango; and Gurney R. Ball, Warren.

Conferees and alternates attending were: Warren, Gurney R. Ball, Evelyn Glossick, Gerould Ostergard, David Swanson and Mrs. Walter Bergler; alternates, Walter Sweeney, Leonard Weston and John F. King.

Forest, W. L. King; alternates, Chester Zuendel, Mrs. Lois Killmer and Roy Marker.

McKean, Merle E. Dickinson, Louise L. Mix, Raymond J. Curtis, Edgar James, Glen E. Mencer, J. P. Jones and Howard Baker. (Baker as first alternate took the place of B. E. Youngquist, now deceased); alternates, Hugh J. Ryan and Orville Scott.

Elk, John C. Kosco, Harrison C. Stackpole, Donald Fleming and Steve Wolfe; alternates, Venango, Richard Frame, Irene P. Lauffer, Alvin Kahl, Edward P. Boyle, William E. Breene, Estelle Heider, F. Earle Magee Jr., Betty J. Richardson and H. Carl Wasson; alternates, Edith L. Hughes, Theodore G. Williams, Major D. Olmes Jr., and Elwood B. Deeter.

Tellers for the election were Walter Sweeney of Warren County and Theodore Williams of Venango County.

Republican and Democratic parties each elect two nominees for delegates to the Constitutional Convention. Three are to be elected.

Great emphasis was made by both delegates elected as nominees on the importance of protecting the rural counties from further impairment of local government, and the danger of being overwhelmed by the greater number of legislators from the large cities which has resulted from Supreme Court mandates on reapportionment which overrode provisions of the Pennsylvania Constitution and legislation. All recognized the necessity for creating more flexibility in the areas to which the delegates will be limited in order to cope with problems of modern society.

In his speech in response to his nomination, William F. Clinger Jr. stressed the importance of strengthening local government in the township, borough and county units, instead of the threatened trend toward larger administrative units. It is his contention that the farther the citizen is to the administrative center, the more he is cut off from his government, with consequent apathy and frustration.

"I feel it is the responsibility of the delegates to reflect the viewpoint, and indeed the biases, of the area from which he comes," Clinger concluded. "The ultimate goal is to fashion a viable constitution for all the people of Pennsylvania. To do this we must have a consensus of viewpoints of all the multifaceted interests."

In nominating Clinger, David Swanson reviewed his many qualifications as a delegate. Clinger is a practicing lawyer, a graduate as a history major from Johns Hopkins, with a law degree from University of Virginia Law School. He is presently a member of the Pennsylvania Bar Association Project Constitution Committee. While in law school he participated in research projects on the Virginia Constitution.

It was also noted he will take leave of absence from his law firm to attend sessions, has no other political office, appointive or elected which would make conflicting demands on his time. He has no political debts to any faction or system, and will exercise an informed, unbiased judgment.

8 GOP GOVERNORS HAVE PLAN

NEW YORK — Eight Republican governors, complaining that federal programs for racially tense urban areas of the nation were inadequate, met here yesterday to endorse their own "action program" against "the tragic epidemic of riots."

Summoned by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller as chairman of the policy committee of the Republican Governors Association, the group made 60 recommendations for states to take in dealing with social injustice and lawlessness.

They stressed the need for prompt, firm action by security forces in the early stages of a civil disorder, calling such action "absolutely necessary in preventing isolated incidents from erupting into full scale riots."

Gov. George W. Romney, of Michigan, said he regarded that recommendation as the most important section of the document.

Romney, who last month accused President Johnson of playing "politics" by delaying the dispatch of federal troops to the Detroit riots, told a press conference: "The lesson of Detroit is that prompt action must be taken."

The "action program" of the eight governors ranged from concrete proposals, such as the immediate establishment of an urban action center to advise all state administrations on urban programs, to general proposal for improving life in the slums.

They charged that the federal government had failed to allot sufficient funds for its programs dealing with urban poverty and that the existing programs, while "imaginative," were unnecessarily rigid in their administration.

Attending the conference, besides Rockefeller and Romney, were Governors Raymond P. Shafer, of Pennsylvania; John

DeGaulle Strikes Out At Critics

(C) N.Y. Times News Service

PARIS — President de Gaulle struck back last night at growing criticism of his domestic and foreign policies.

In a television speech he lashed his critics as "the school of national renunciation," "adepts of denigration," "apostles of decline" and "devotees of Atlantic obedience."

At the same time, France's leading Gaullist newspaper, Paris Presse, reported a sharp drop in de Gaulle's popularity and concluded that, if the 1965 presidential election were held today, he would probably be defeated by the candidate of the left.

General de Gaulle's decline in popularity over the last two months, reported at almost 10 percentage points in an opinion poll, coincided with France's opposition to Israel in the United Nations, the president's voyage to Canada and a widely opposed reform of social security.

In his 20-minute television counterattack, the 76-year-old general called on the French to forget daily cares and think of peace and the destiny of France.

For peace, he said, "one must be free of foreign allegiances and the episodic forces of public opinion." And one must be strong, he said, and continue:

"Nothing, absolutely nothing, matters as much to us as rebuilding, thanks to peace, our substance, our influence and our power."

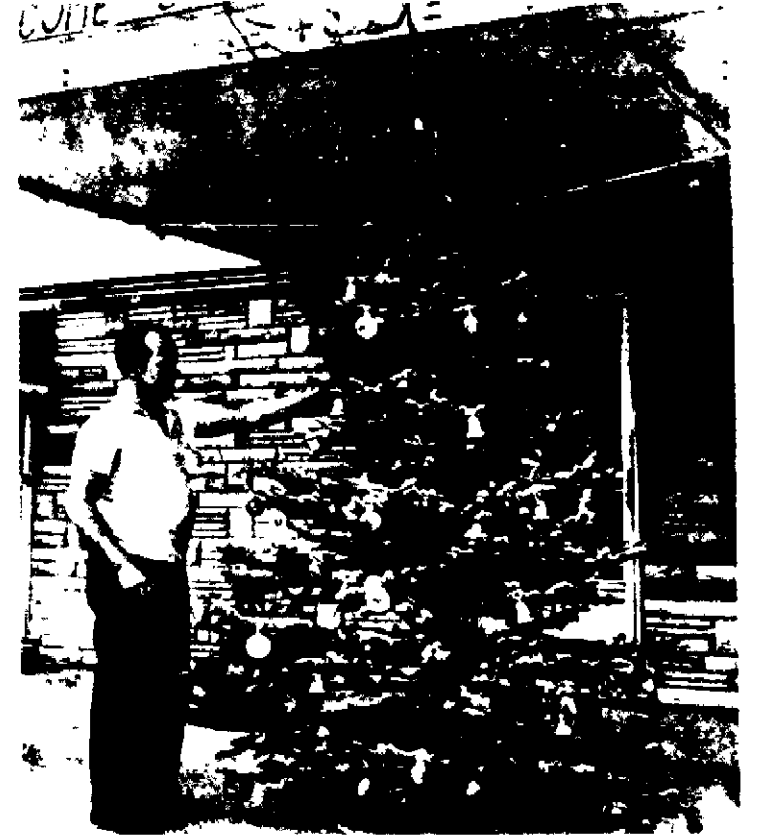

That is why, de Gaulle continued, France has made peace with Algeria, liberated her African colonies, promoted cooperation with West Germany, sought friendly relations with Eastern Europe and, "even if the immediate advantage may not be very apparent," opened contact with Peking. That is why, he said, France condemned armed intervention in the middle East and Southeast Asia.

Fire early yesterday morning demolished a garage at the Gordon Hamilton residence at 218 central ave.

Borough fire fighters received the call at 5:13 a.m. and battled the flames more than an hour and one half.

Hamilton said a lawn mower, various garden tools and his children's bicycles were lost in the fire. He said the family car was not in the building because his wife had driven it to Boston for a visit.

Firemen said they were unable to ascertain the cause of the fire immediately.

Anti-Riot 'Action Program'

They stressed the need for prompt, firm action by security forces in the early stages of a civil disorder, calling such action "absolutely necessary in preventing isolated incidents from erupting into full scale riots."

Gov. George W. Romney, of Michigan, said he regarded that recommendation as the most important section of the document.

Romney, who last month accused President Johnson of playing "politics" by delaying the dispatch of federal troops to the Detroit riots, told a press conference: "The lesson of Detroit is that prompt action must be taken."

The "action program" of the eight governors ranged from concrete proposals, such as the immediate establishment of an urban action center to advise all state administrations on urban programs, to general proposal for improving life in the slums.

They charged that the federal government had failed to allot sufficient funds for its programs dealing with urban poverty and that the existing programs, while "imaginative," were unnecessarily rigid in their administration.

Attending the conference, besides Rockefeller and Romney, were Governors Raymond P. Shafer, of Pennsylvania; John

Union Wants Income Tax Deeply Cut

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Eliminate income taxes on earnings up to $7,000 a year, says a resolution passed by the convention of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America.

To this end, delegates to the meeting of the 165,000-member independent union Wednesday asked for action to amend the National Labor Relations Act. Earlier, the session heard Harry Bridges, president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, blast AFL-CIO leaders for being "fat and lazy."

They are, he said, "living in the past and have forgotten where they've been and don't know where they are going." Bridges scored them for pro-administration policies on the Vietnam war.

He said the United States would be mighty lucky to get out of the war with just a stalemate.

Shafer Bypasses Federal Gov.

On Model Cities

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Shafer said yesterday he would bypass the federal government and make state funds available immediately to speed up the Model Cities programs in Pennsylvania.

"Any community which has filed an application for a federal Model Cities planning grant and contains a sizable area vulnerable to disorder would be eligible for such assistance," Shafer said.

The governor added that Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Reading, Erie, Harrisburg and Chester would be eligible to request funds immediately.

Shafer said he had decided to move ahead on his own after he was told by Robert C. Weaver, secretary of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, that federal funds for the projects would not be available immediately.

The federal funds originally were to have been released by July 1, Shafer said.

Shafer said he has directed the State Department of Community Affairs to eliminate red tape to make funds available at once for the program.

A department spokesman said he did not know how much the program would cost, nor how much was available at the moment.

"We are looking around now to see how much we can come up with," the spokesman said.

Athenagoras To Visit Pope

UN Acts on 'Explosive' Africa Issue
(c) N.Y. Times News Service
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.—A United Nations council created to lead South West Africa to independence from South Africa was installed yesterday with Jose Pinera, the permanent representative of Chile, as president.

After 20 years of fruitless U.N. negotiations with South Africa to give up the territory, Secretary General Thant said yesterday that the "world community is confronted in Southern Africa with an explosive situation."

Thant called on South Africa to cooperate with the new South West Africa Council in carrying out the General Assembly resolution of May 19 that the territory become an independent nation by next June.

South Africa has already declared that it does not recognize the competence of the U.N. To alter the status of South West Africa, placed under South African mandate by the League of Nations.

Pinera said the council would proceed under the General Assembly resolution to seek South Africa's consent for the establishment of a U.N. High Commissioner in South West Africa, but he said he did not expect cooperation.

Not a Pretty Picture

The recent riots in Detroit have reactivated the nation's interest in firearms control laws and moved Senator Thomas Dodd to reopen hearings on his S. 1 bill, a firearms control bill drafted by the Administration and having its unqualified support.

Senator Dodd, in opening the hearings, said that the recent rash of riots in different cities provided ample proof that such a law is needed. To substantiate Dodd's statement, another member of the committee cited a recent investigation conducted by the Treasury Department in Newark (also the scene of riots) wherein it was learned that 56 licensed gun dealers in that city had sold 690 guns in a single day. It was suggested that these guns were bought for illegal purposes.

However, not all Senators agreed with this assumption. Some wondered if at least part of these guns weren't purchased by lawful citizens wanting to protect their lives and property when police protection failed to halt frenzied mobs.

But the most interesting testimony was presented by the Hon. David E. McGiffert, Under Secretary of the Army, when he gave a lengthy and detailed analysis of the Civilian Marksmanship Program. A program that must come under close scrutiny when considering any of the proposed firearms legislation.

The Civilian Marksmanship Program is a joint project of the Department of Defense and the National Rifle Association that has been considered as an outstanding aid to the nation's defense in the past. Clubs affiliated with the National Rifle Association can obtain surplus military rifles, pistols, and ammunition to promote small arms practice among citizens.

In the past, it has never been too difficult for a club to be accepted into the program, but McGiffert outlined to the Senate new procedures recently established that require sworn statements and fingerprint checks of club officers.

Some clubs in the Warren area have participated in the Civilian Marksmanship Program over the years and it is certain members of these clubs will object to severe regulations that penalize their sport. And it is almost inconceivable that in a community such as ours any club official should be required to make a sworn statement and be fingerprinted. But this, they say, is the price we must pay for actions that take place in communities "not" like ours.

Yet one can't help but wonder about things when a racial fanatic in Detroit or Newark can set in motion a chain of circumstances that in the end make it necessary for an upright citizen in Warren to not only swear allegiance to his country, but be fingerprinted like a criminal.

The picture this presents is not pretty.

SYLVIA PORTER

How to Spot a Diamond Gyp

The uniquely skilled diamond cutters of Israel are now back in full production. The fortunes in rough diamonds which were shipped out of the country on the eve of the Mideast war in early June for safekeeping in vaults in Europe and the U.S. have been returned. Israel, second largest producer of polished diamonds in the world, is once again finishing precious diamonds for export.

But the Mideast war—as was a world crisis usually do—has left its mark on the diamond's price. On the first Monday following the outbreak, the price of a large parcel of cut diamonds offered for sale in the New York Diamond Club was reported to have been jacked up 50 per cent; on the first Tuesday the parcel was withdrawn all together, Israel's rapid victory abruptly halted the price upsurge, but as of today retail prices of popular-sized diamonds are up 3 per cent over May, according to Fred Goldman, president of Medco, Inc., the world's largest jewelry firm selling fine diamonds in 122 department stores across the country.

It's unlikely that you will buy diamonds as an investment—and unless you are a highly trained expert, you should not try to play against the pros in this game. It's also unlikely that you will put substantial amounts of your savings in diamonds.

But almost surely you will buy or own a diamond or two more in your lifetime. More than 80 per cent of men in the 18 to 25-year age bracket in this country buy an average 1/2 carat diamond engagement ring for their fiancées. The average U. S. family is among the principal buyers of the world's diamonds.

But while the long-term trend of diamond prices is strongly upward, the market value of the stones you buy may be a fraction of what you pay—unless you keep out of the hands of the diamond gyps. What's more, no agency of the law—federal, state or local—or any business bureau or any jeweler's trade association stringently polices the individual sale of diamonds through retail outlets. Even so-called "reputable" jewelers have "palmed off" inferior diamonds to an unknowledgeable consumer," warns the Jewelers Vigilance Committee, an association of jewelers created to regulate the industry's advertising—and, the committee adds, the deception may be hidden by incorrect and collusive appraisals.

Your fundamental guide is obvious: buy only from an established jeweler whose reputation you can trust. Goldman also suggests you may be able to detect an unscrupulous dealer if he tries to sell you:

(1) A perfect blue-white diamond. There aren't any in the whole world. In fact, the term "blue-white" is illegal and any jeweler who describes a stone as such, says Goldman, "is committing a fraudulent sales act."

(2) An artificially colored diamond. This is a genuine diamond of poor color. The diamond may be colored by an electronic treatment of atomic bombardment to bring up its brilliance and make it permanent, or the diamond's back may be colored with a blue dye which is not permanent. In either case, a jeweler must state in writing before the diamond is sold what treatment was used, under penalty of fine and jail. The first penalty was recently imposed in New York City, when a jeweler was fined $1,000 and jailed for 60 days for not notifying a customer in writing in advance of a sale of a diamond's artificial coloring.

(3) A piggy-back diamond. This is a small diamond placed in close proximity to another, with the mounting hiding the separations of the stones and making the two small diamonds look like one large one. Dishonest jewelers will try to sell this as, say, "one carat in diamonds" or some other deceptive advertising.

(4) A synthetic diamond which will look like the real thing. Its chemical term, though, will be "colorless synthetic spinel," or "colorless synthetic sapphire," or "synthetic rutile," or "strontium titanite."

A diamond's real value will be directly dependent on the four "C's": carat (weight), color, clarity and cut. These are standard yardsticks and reputable dealers usually will evaluate a diamond against these yardsticks at a similar price. Don't try to outwit the pros. Just get your money's worth, and over the years you'll come out way ahead.

Congressman's Friend in Need

(c) N. Y. Times News Service WASHINGTON — Many persons have been infuriated this summer by the demagogic virtuosity of H. Rap Brown, but very few know "Brown's" true identity. His real name is John Green and he is an undercover outside agitator on the payroll of the Senate Appropriations Committee.

His assignment is to help Congress find inexpensive solutions to the nation's racial problem. When racial animosity threatens to erupt at a given location, Green—or "Rap Brown," to use his undercover name—hurries to the scene, delivers inflammatory harangues and in other unskillful ways seeks to make himself highly visible.

In this way, Brown helps Congress to save billions. A Senate aide who insists on anonymity explains:

"If riots break out, Congress naturally has to investigate the cause and produce solutions to eliminate it. Some of these solutions can get pretty expensive. If you can discover that the riots are caused by outside agitators, however, you can let the taxpayer off cheap with a bill to provide prison accommodations for any agitators caught crossing state lines."

Thus, as an undercover outside agitator, Green performs an important financial service for the "white power structure" for which, in his identity as "Brown," he is forced to profess violent distaste.

The idea for a congressional corps of undercover outside agitators originated three years ago when the appropriations committee invented "Stokeley Carmichael."

"Carmichael"—his real name is Peter Mulligan—was an ambitious young lawyer with a theatrical taste for rhetoric and undercover work which was not satisfied by the humdrum of his chores on the Senate staff.

At that time the civil-rights movement had begun to generate such popularity that Congress foresaw it might soon be required to support public promises with large outlays of cash.

To forestall this possibility—after all, the United States could rebuild its cities or it could rebuild Vietnam, but it could scarcely be expected to do both without affecting the economy—Mulligan was sent forth as "Stokeley Carmichael" to reduce public support for the civil-rights movement.

It is said that "Blackpower," his slogan which so successfully cooled the egalitarian ardor of white liberals, was actually the inspiration of Sen. Eastland of Mississippi. In any case, it helped Congress avoid some rather heavy expenditures, and incidentally generated a good deal of New York sympathy for the Mississippi way of life.

Our Mountain Of Trash

When I was a boy, our milk came direct from a local farmer. He drove up to the house in a buckboard, and the milk was poured from a metal container into bottles that we had set out in the kitchen. Glass milk bottles were still valued in those days, and it was not often that a household would litter the countryside with them.

Today, we live in the throw-away age. Milk comes in plastic-coated paper containers that are cast aside as part of the mountain of trash that threatens to bury our civilization.

The one-way container has some merits but people being what they are, it often ends up on the beach, along the highway, in a picnic ground, or under the hedge in a neighbor's back yard.

The beer bottle has been replaced with a non-returnable one, or with a beer can with its magic built-in opener. Now the soft drink industry has followed suit by introducing non-returnable bottles to accompany pop in tin cans.

When all beverage bottles were of the returnable type, most of them found their way back to the bottling plants. Small boys could be depended upon to ferret out the few that had been left scattered over the landscape. These "deposit" bottles provided spending money for kids with enough ambition to gather them up.

We Americans are sorely afflicted with "drop-itis," and "throw-itis." If you don't believe it, just watch a kid with a candy bar when he comes out of a store. His first act is to rip off the wrapper and drop it on the sidewalk or throw it into the gutter. If he comes out sipping on a can of pop, you may be reasonably sure that when the can is empty he will contract a good case of "throw-itis," and the can will be carelessly tossed into the street or onto someone's lawn.

One day as I was eating lunch at an outdoor table at a country restaurant in France, an old man rode up on a bicycle. After he had alighted, he pulled two old unlabeled wine bottles out of a knapsack, went into the back door of the restaurant and had them refilled with the local "vin ordinaire."

This old Frenchman had never been afflicted with "throw-itis" or "drop-itis." He used the same wine bottles over and over again.

The standard of living is not so high in France as it is in the United States, and thriftiness is still a national trait among the French country folk. Perhaps that is why the countryside in old France isn't littered with bottles, cans, and paper wrappers.

JIM BISHOP

The rain slanted thin and the flags on the greens hung their heads. At King's Inn Golf Club, the floggers addressed themselves to cold beer and bragging and studied the frowning sky. Harry Obitz, Executive Director of Golf, glanced at the onyx in his cup of coffee and said the sun would be in ten minutes. His pro, Dick Farley, munched on cheese and remembered the time Jackie Gleason came out in a rain suit at Shawnee-on-Deleware, listened to the applause of summer thunder and said: "Let's go, pal. Let's go."

Obitz is 52 and is built like a water cooler. Farley is 38, dark and handsome. In their time, these two have given golf tips to such as Perry Como, Ed Sullivan, Eddie Fisher, Phil Harris, Buddy Hackett, Vic Damone, Don Ameche and The Greatest. They worked at Fred Waring's Shawnee-on-Deleware, an undulating rug of green-blue in the Pocono Mountains.

Waring is a perfectionist. He also has a short fuse. When the president of Ford Motor Company lifted a divot and failed to replace it, Waring got in a golf cart, picked it up, followed the man, and presented it to him. "Here," he said, "start your own lawn." That was one customer who never returned.

Gleason showed up one morning in 1958 with Jack Phillips, his producer. He was tenderly manuring a hangover. He and his adjoining belly were shown to adjoining rooms. Jackie never learned to sit. This is twice as true when booze has tightened the frets of the nervous system.

He is, by talent, a pool shark, but the only game at Shawnee was golf. So, rather than sit clapping and unclapping his sausage fingers, he took a club and said: "How do I hold this thing?" Dusty, a caddy, tied up some balls. "Hold it any way you like," Harry Obitz said, Jackie bisected fifteen dot balls with mighty swipes. The 16th sailed out straight and true and far, hanging like an eight ball in the sky.

This made a golfer of Jackie Gleason. It may also have been the most monumental progress in the world of golf since Harry Varden invented the overlapping grip. When Jackie likes anything, animate or inanimate, he immerses himself completely and forthwith. He asked Dusty how much he earned a week. "Fifty," the caddy said. "You are now on my payroll," said the ruddy eyeballs. "At a hundred."

Gleason, momentarily out of work, tipped everybody lavishly, got Obitz and Farley out of bed at dawn, and beat golf balls until their intestines hung out,

LBJ Takes Up Bird Watching

WASHINGTON—Over the years, a number of elusive employees have turned up on the Congressional payroll of Rep. John McMillan, D-S.C., and have drawn their government pay without ever being seen by others in his office. These mysterious employees now seem to have vanished without a trace.

The only one this column has been able to track down apparently died before he went to work for McMillan.

The House payroll records show that George Hall of Marion, S.C., was paid $1,173.90 for working in McMillan's office from June through November 1943. He turned up again on the Congressman's office payroll from June 1946 through February 1947, this time collecting $2,949.61.

The only George Hall recorded as living in Marion during the past 30 years died in 1938. Marion tax records list no George Hall after 1938. The Hall families in Marion know of no other George Hall who has lived there.

The departed George Hall had a dramatic death. His wife was the first to pass away. He brought her to her home in Virginia to be buried, then he fell dead on her grave. Their four children left Marion years ago.

All his life, Hall wore a special shoe because of a deformed foot. Recalls a friend, Archie Gales, who now works at the Gasque Motor Company in Marion: "George Hall was a fine man and a good Christian. He was a cripple, but he used to walk two miles every Sunday to church so he could teach Sunday school."

David Hall, who works at the Auto Service and Supply Shop in Marion, remembers the George Hall family. He is positive that the parents died and the children moved away before Pearl Harbor. Neither of the two Hall families now living in Marion has any memory of another George Hall coming to town in the 1940's. This squares with the town records.

Yet the George Hall whom McMillan placed on the public payroll in 1943 and again in 1946-47 was recorded as residing in Marion. His pay checks, however, were delivered to McMillan's office.

The Congressman could not be reached for a comment. Meanwhile, this column is trying to locate other people on his payroll who, like George Hall, apparently never showed up at McMillan's offices in Washington, D.C., or Florence, S.C., to do any work.

A White House workman started up a ladder the other day to remove a bird's nest from a cornice outside President Johnson's office. Inside the nest were three scrawny, wee baby birds.

Before the workman reached his destination he was intercepted by a messenger, who instructed him to leave the bird's nest alone until the babies were big enough to fly away.

The order came from the President of the United States, who had been peering through the French doors of his office.

Early in the morning three days a week, world conditions permitting, Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara rolls in his limousine into the playground at St. Albans Episcopal Prep School on the edge of historic Georgetown.

At precisely 7 a.m. he lays aside his newspaper and bursts out of the rear seat in his shorts for a fast game of tennis. He belongs to a hardy band of Washington celebrities who enjoy strenuous exercise.

In President Eisenhower's day, golf was the game. President Kennedy brought in a group of young, intense New Frontiersmen who found tennis more their speed.

The survivors still play furious tennis, in the Kennedy tradition, on the green clay courts at St. Albans. They include Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman and Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall, Presidential Assistants Walt Rostow and Harry McPherson, Senators Joe Clark, D-Pa., and Joe Tydings, D-Md. A couple of Republican interlopers, Senator Jacob Javits of New York and Charles Percy of Illinois, have also got into the swing.

St. Albans became their tennis headquarters after Jackie Kennedy, as First Lady, asked pro Allie Ritzberg to help her improve her game. He selected the St. Albans Courts, which quickly attracted other New Frontier tennis addicts.

McNamara plays a typically no-nonsense game, stroking the ball left-handed. Once, Ritzberg received a frantic phone call at St. Albans from Mrs. McNamara, who announced that the secretary had forgotten to take along his business suit. Ritzberg got the message to McNamara in time to keep him from showing up for work in his shorts.

Freeman puts in his appearances at St. Albans in an outfit that makes tennis aficionados raise their eyebrows. The Secretary of Agriculture hops out of his limousine ready to play, clad in boxer-type shorts, basketball shoes, and a T-shirt just a bit short so that his stomach peeps out at his opponent.

The most aggressive player of the lot is Rostow, the White House hawk, who demonstrates on the tennis courts how he would like to fight the Vietnam war.

Once the late President Kennedy tracked down Assistant Secretary of State Bob Manning at St. Albans. When Manning picked up the phone, the President said: "So that's where all you guys hang out!"

Quite a few still hang out there.

MASON DENISON

Seeing Is Believing

Pennsylvania News Service HARRISBURG — Reporter's Notebook:

Seeing is Believing, etc.—Fast becoming one of the standing jokes around Capitol Hill this legislative session has been the continual vein of optimism that has exuded from the new in-office administration of Governor Raymond Philip Shafer—although the record of the past seven months seemingly would belie any reason for excessive peering through rose-tinted glasses.

For example, early this week gubernatorial Budget Secretary Arthur F. Sampson allowed as how agreement would be reached "very soon" on the budget and tax deadlock that has hamstringed the Legislature since month before last—an allowance that caught virtually every administration legislative chieftain by surprise; none of the brethren in the legislative camp (in whose bailiwick the action would have to take place—not the executive branch) knew anything about any such pending agreement or solution.

In any event, the solution-around-the-corner theme has been worked to rags in past several weeks, almost to the irritating point as one legislative leader expressed it: "I'll believe it when I see it—and not until then."

But front office optimism—some seven months of it—has exuded in other areas of the legislative spectrum in spite of somewhat dismal facts. For example, in what must be some sort of record, of more than two score pieces of legislation classified by the administration itself as "major administration bills" only four have felt the scratch of the gubernatorial pen after seven months of sessioning, and on three subjects bills haven't even been introduced as yet (all this notwithstanding earlier administration chit-chat of an "early adjournment"?)

Schools And More Schools—The post-World War II rage of building newer, finer and bigger and better schools was perhaps succinctly emphasized this week in a report by the State Public School Building Authority which noted that during the past 20 years SPBSA alone has undertaken more than 600 school building projects throughout the Keystone State.

The projects range from every type and size of building conceivable, from an $80,000 alteration project to an $8,000,000 senior high school. Puffed SPBSA:

"Certainly in Pennsylvania—and probably in the entire nation—there is no other single agency which has accumulated the fund of experience and knowledge relative to school building construction that is available from the State Public School Building Authority."

"Now Hear This!"—The installation of costly electronic data processing equipment in various and sundry departments on Capitol Hill has been a bone of contention for the past decade, and the contention end isn't in sight yet.

In stout defense of the sophisticated (and costly) gadgetry, Budget Secretary Sampson in a report to the Legislature, et al., this week outlined the world of wonderful accomplishments achieved by the whirling wheels, tapes and what-not. Said he at one point:

"If all punched card and computer equipment were arbitrarily removed—it is estimated conservatively on the basis of work force trend analysis that 18,000 additional employees would be required for fiscal year 1967-68 at increased payroll costs of 108 million dollars to maintain continuity in performance of present Commonwealth functions."

All of which has prompted some of the old Capitol Hill veterans to wonder just how the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania managed to hang together before the advent of these mechanical marvels. It is interesting to note that since the advent of the (labor saving) contraptions, the state payroll has jumped from some 75,000 to around 100,000. Think what it would have been without these (labor saving) devices!

dollar Jackie Gleason Open Tournament. Like everything else, it must be bigger and better than anything ever done before.

The only things Jackie does not do in golf is tee a ball, or lift one out of the cup. He beat Bob Hope in a match one day, and Hope sat with me and said: "He doesn't hit a bad ball for a guy who can't see it." . . .

Viet Campaign is Chaos

By R. W. APPLE JR.
(C) N.Y. Times News Service
SAIGON — The presidential campaign, already delayed by a dispute between military and civilian candidates, was thrown into chaos yesterday.

Seven of the 10 civilian nominees announced that they would refuse to campaign until they were assured by the government of "an end to harassment." Two said they would seek votes on their own. The tenth could not be reached.

The ruling junta was reported to be unwilling to make any formal conciliatory gesture. Its leader, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, the chief of state, is the military nominee for president.

Allies of other candidates said that they favored the simultaneous withdrawal of all civilian candidates.

Although such single-mindedness appeared unlikely to emerge in the suspicious and quarrelsome atmosphere of Vietnamese politics, the fact that the plans were under discussion disappointed American officials and others who had hoped the campaign would develop along relatively orderly lines.

"The Vietnamese are showing their unerring instinct for self-destruction again," said one official. "They're behaving like the French."

The Constituent Assembly, which converted itself into a temporary legislature when the constitution was adopted last spring, has given up hope of acting on the two major tasks still before it — a press law and a law governing political parties.

Unable to muster a quorum, assembly leaders sent deputies back to the provinces yesterday with instructions to return to Saigon after the Sept. 3 balloting for president and vice president.

Curtailment of assembly sessions also blocked any action by the body on the petition of Ly Van Hiep, the assembly's representative on the Central Election Committee. He submitted his resignation secretly to the assembly 10 days ago because, he said, the committee had been subjected to so much pressure from the government while screening presidential and senatorial tickets that it had been unable to do its job.

On Sunday, the latent hostility between the military and civilian nominees for president was brought to the surface by a tragicomic incident in Quang-tri province.

Viet Casualties are Shown in New Light

By BOB HORTON
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Previously undisclosed government figures show that nearly half of the thousands of servicemen wounded in Vietnam never even go to a hospital.

Seventy per cent of those who are hurt seriously enough to require hospital care eventually return to duty either in Vietnam or elsewhere.

These figures throw a new light on statistics which to date list 75,882 Americans wounded in Southeast Asia operations since 1961.

The armed services compiled a numerical breakdown of wounded casualties mainly in an effort to show that the toll is less ominous in reality than it looks on paper.

Records of war wounded between January 1965 and last May disclose that of the 64,189 listed as injured, all but 10,056 have returned to duty.

"In addition, some of the 7,456 men now remaining in hospitals will undoubtedly be eventually returned to duty," it was explained.

Of the 64,189, a total of 30,779 or 48 per cent continued on or returned to duty without hospitalization.

Of the 33,410 or 52 per cent who required hospital care, 14,820 returned to duty in Vietnam while 8,534 took up assignments in other areas.

Among the remaining hospital cases, 1,585 were discharged with disability, 1,015 died, and the rest were still in hospitals at the time the figures were drawn up.

There are about 15 hospitals in Vietnam plus the hospital ship Repose stationed near Da Nang. A man goes to one of these if he is likely to recover in two weeks.

ATTACK ACROSS ARMISTICE LINE

North Koreans Kill 3 GI's

By K.P. HONG
SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Three American soldiers were killed and about 16 injured yesterday in two attacks by North Koreans across the demilitarized zone, a U.S. 8th Army spokesman said.

At least one South Korean soldier was reported wounded in the latest incidents in a stepped-up Communist campaign of violence along the armistice line between North and South Korea.

The two ambushes brought to 15 the number of Americans reported killed in border clashes since last November. The last previous attack occurred July 16, when about 10 North Koreans overran a U.S. position and killed three Americans.

The Communists have carried out about 110 attacks on South Korean border forces in the past nine months, killing about 80 soldiers. The United Nations Command says 162 North Koreans have been killed or taken prisoner.

North Koreans were ordered by Premier Kim Il-sung last October to increase their "preparations for war" and to adopt more aggressive guerrilla tactics in South Korea.

Since then, U.S. Maj. Gen.

Marvin C. Demler, senior U.N. Command member of the joint armistice commission, has said maintenance of the armistice "has reached a critical point."

South Korean officials have reported a growing number of guerrilla incidents well south of the demilitarized zone.

In one of Thursday's attacks, the U.S. spokesman said, North Koreans used grenades and automatic weapons to attack a truck in the U.S. 2nd Infantry Division area on the western front about 35 miles north of Seoul.

Three Americans were killed, and about 15 Americans and a South Korean were injured.

The Americans returned the fire and reinforcements were hurried to the area north of the Imjin River. The spokesman said enemy casualties were not determined.

Sources said the American casualties were members of an artillery unit of the U.S. 7th Infantry Division.

In the second attack, four or five North Koreans fired from a distance of about 200 yards on an American patrol about 500 yards south of the demilitarized zone. The U.S. spokesman said one American was seriously wounded and his scout dog was killed.

The attack was also in the 2nd Division area, which covers 18 1/2 miles of the 151-mile border near the Panmunjom armistice village.

Ted Kennedy Says Riot View Biased

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy said yesterday that Senate riot investigators are getting a distorted view of racial outbreaks, and urged that Govs. George Romney of Michigan and Richard J.

Hughes of New Jersey be called as witnesses.

Kennedy, a Massachusetts Democrat, made his complaint and his request after the Senate Judiciary Committee heard a fifth day of police testimony.

"To date, the witnesses have presented a distorted view," the senator said.

Joined by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., Kennedy asked Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., to broaden the inquiry so that it will cover social and economic aspects of city turmoil as well as racial agitation and law enforcement.

Eastland said he will take up their request at a closed session of the Judiciary Committee within a few days. "We've got to set down guidelines," he told newsmen. "We've certainly got to hear from people who oppose the bill."

The bill is a House-approved measure which would make it a federal crime to cross state lines with intent to incite riot.

Policemen from riot-scarred cities have unanimously endorsed the measure.

Sgt. John Ungvary of Cleveland urged the committee to toughen and broaden the measure. "This should be changed so that a single act of violence by one person who is a member of a mob will bring the bill into play," Ungvary said.

Twin Tops City Ice For Rec Loop Title

Twin Drive In, rebounding from a long losing streak, proved the old adage of "when the going gets tough, the tough get going" applied last night as they whipped City Ice & Beverage, 5-1 to clinch the regular season championship in the Recreation Softball League.

In other games, Surf Club upset highly-rated Mineral Well 7-5 and Towne & Country took a forfeit victory over Sparkle when the Car Washers failed to field enough players.

With the first four places in the loop decided, playoffs start tonight for the year-end title. Twin Drive In, City Ice, Mineral Well and Towne & Country are the four teams who will be playing.

Last night, Twin Drive In did all its scoring in the final four frames to trip the Icemen. City Ice had taken a 1-0 edge in the first, but TDI tied the game in the fourth, went ahead in the fifth, then added the deciding runs in the sixth and seventh innings.

Don Baldensperger's triple and doubles by Tony Ross and Harry Gnage sparked the TDI attack. A double by Roger Steadward of the Icemen was the only extra-base knock off winning pitcher Jack Colvin, who twirled a four-hitter. Twin's Charley Pettit for seven strikeouts.

In a contest at War Memorial Field, the Surfers, who have played the role of spoiler all season — did it again, edging Mineral Well, 7-5 to mire the Mets in third place.

A sixth-inning rally saved it for the Surfers, who led 4-3 after three innings, then fell behind, 5-4 in the top of the sixth.

Five Met misplays aided the Surfers, as both teams collected six hits. Steve Marti, Charlie Kurz and Bill Stocum rapped doubles for the winners. Morty Steele legged out a triple for the Mets. Mick Dison slammed a pair of two-beggars and Dick DeSemone added another double.

Jim Dahler picked up the mound victory over Herb Bouquin.

Tonight's opening of playoff action shows Mineral Well meeting City Ice in a 6:30 contest at Carbon Memorial Field and Twin Drive In going against Towne & Country in the 8 p.m. nightcap.

Sunday, the same teams are paired up, but switch ends of

Surgery Slated For 2 Steelers

Latrobe, Pa. (AP) — Defensive end Ben McGee and offensive guard Mike Magac of the Pittsburgh Steelers will undergo knee surgery yesterday and be sidelined at least six weeks, the National Football League club said yesterday.

A Steeler spokesman said McGee injured his left knee in a scrimmage several days ago and Magac hurt his right knee in a blocking drill.

Both were thought at first to have strained ligaments but the club's physician said it would be necessary to operate.

Coach Bill Austin said Lloyd Voss would take over McGee's spot and Bruce Van Dyke will start at guard in place of Magac against the Packers at Green Bay Saturday night.

Packer Flanker Reinjures Knee

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Flanker Bob Long of the Green Bay Packers underwent surgery yesterday after reinjuring his right knee in a workout.

Long was out about seven weeks last football season when he injured the knee, also in practice, and had to undergo surgery.

Vince Lombardi, coach and general manager, said Long would be lost indefinitely and might possibly miss the entire season.

Long, former University of Wichita star, is in his fourth year with the National Football League champions.

A's Get Hurler, Sanford Waived

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Athletics recalled Roberto Rodriguez, a right-handed pitcher, from the Vancouver club of the Pacific Coast league yesterday.

The 24-year-old player from Caracas, Venezuela, went from the parent club to Vancouver last May. There he compiled a 12-4 record with an ERA of 2.58. He will join the club here tonight.

At the same time the Athletics asked for waivers on pitcher Jack Sanford, 38-year-old hurler obtained from the California Angels in a trade for outfielder Roger Repoz.

Dragons' Grid Physicals Set

Warren Area High School will hold football physicals over a three-day period next week. Lettermen and seniors will report to the high school at 10 a.m. on Tuesday, juniors are slated for the same time Wednesday and sophomore examinations will be made Thursday morning.

Practice for the Dragons, and all county high schools, will start next Friday.

Nichols Blasts Beverage; Sturdevant No-Hits Betts

Nichols Service Center ripped Warren Beverage in a battle for first place in the nightcap of a City Softball League double-header at Carbon Memorial Field last night, but Jim "Booney" Sturdevant of Sons of Italy stole some of the big game's spotlight by hurling a 2-0 no-hitter at Betts Machine in the opener.

The SOI-Betts contest was a pitcher's duel between Sturdevant and John Berdine of the Machinists, then the Nichols sluggers took over and ripped ten hits to easily win a key contest in the second half title fight.

Nichols led all the way and winning hurler Jim McMeans pitched shutout ball until the sixth when the Beverage men tallied both their runs.

A game-opening single by Jim Fehlman started the Nichols parade in the first. Jack White bunted him to second, then a walk to Tom LeTrent put two men on and losing pitcher Dean Stewart hit Bob Larson to load the bases.

An error on Paul Johnston's grounder allowed two runs to score and Nichols was off and winging.

Consecutive basehits by LeTrent, Larson and Johnston sparked a four-run third frame for the Servicemen, then four more in the sixth put the game out of reach. A double by Bob Ishman was the big hit in the inning.

He finished up by retiring the last seven men in a row to preserve his no-hit, no-run effort.

Sons of Italy nicked Berdine for four hits, two in the fifth and one in the sixth. Berdine was out of the game in the sixth inning.

Europeans Whip Americans Team In Track Event

MONTREAL (AP) — Europe, scoring heavily in the field events and getting solid performances from the women, rallied yesterday and beat the Americas' team—heavily United States—169-155 in their two-day track and field meet.

The Europeans had one-two finishes in the triple jump, the 800 meters, the hammer, and the women's shot to pull ahead. The men's and women's totals were combined. Points were awarded on the basis of five for first, three for second, two for third and one for fourth.

Eleanor Montgomery of Cleveland took the high jump at 5-7 1/4. Madeline Manning of Cleveland won the women's 800 meters in 2:02.6, and Chris McCubbin, Enid, Okla., was never headed in winning the 3,000-meter steeplechase in 8:44.1.

But the Europeans were one-two in the women's shotput, the men's 800 meters and the men's triple jump, and Daniel Jaworski of Poland took the women's javelin, putting Europe in front 153-144 after nine events.

Henrik Kalocsai of Hungary won the triple jump at 54-4 1/4. Franz-Josef Kemper of West Germany won the 800 in 1:49.3, and Margitta Gummel of East Germany took the women's shot at 56-8.

NEW DANCE CRAZE?

Cincinnati's Pete Rose is a high-stepper as he attempts to avoid the tag by Houston's Ron Brand in the eighth inning of Wednesday night's games. The gyrations worked as Rose scored from second on Tony Perez' single to left. The Reds won, 7-3.

Eagles Slate Physicals, Gals' Clinic

Football physicals at Youngsville High School will be held on Monday at 10 a.m. for seniors and juniors and at the same time on Tuesday for sophomores and freshmen. Equipment will also be issued at this time. Dr. Richard A. Peters will be the examining physician.

A clinic will be conducted on Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the YHS cafeteria by new Head Coach By Welker and his staff for mothers and other interested women. Topics covered will include conditioning, safety equipment, rules and play diagramming. All women of the community are invited to attend.

County Hot Stove's Title Teams Listed

Rosters have been announced for tomorrow's playoff games in the Upper Allegheny Valley Hot Stove League at Wilder Field.

In the Bantam division, Berenfield Barrel of Clarendon will meet Marshall & Atkins of Tidoute at 1 p.m. on the small diamond.

Stalene Speedway of Sugar Grove and Engstrom's Clothing Store of Youngsville will meet on the small diamond at 2:30 for the Midget division playoff.

The County Cadet playoff will take place on the small diamond at 4 p.m. Holcomb & Son of Grand Valley and the Akeley Merchants of Russell are contesting for this title.

The Intermediate All-Star game will take place on the big diamond at 1 p.m. The Junior League players will meet the alumni at 3:30, also on the big diamond.

Rosters for the three championship games are as follows:

MIDGET Stalene Speedway, (Tom Bosko, Manager) — David Bosko, Ken Loomis, Jeff Sanders, Wayne Gruber, Doug Audley, Mark Thompson, Randy Brown, Mark Capron, Craig

Walker's Dairy earned the title of Boro Midget Champs last night as they defeated Pennsylvania Bank & Trust 4-1 in playoff action. Don Trubie hurled the championship win for Walkers. The PBT loss was suffered by Mark Starnburg. Glen Belleau went three for three for Walkers. Belleau and Trubie both collected a three-bagger. Joey Wilkes snagged a double for Walkers. Jim Zadarko went two for two to lead PBT batters. Walker's managed to crack ten hits while PBT clicked only seven.

MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL ROUNDUP:

ChiSox Edge Tigers; Giants Drop Cards; Pirates Shutout Mets, 3-0

DETROIT (AP) — Ken Boyer's home run off reliever pitcher Mike Marshall in the eighth inning powered the Chicago White Sox to a 2-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers last night.

The victory, Chicago's second in its last seven games, earned the White Sox a split in the four-game series with Detroit and kept them two games ahead of second-place Boston, which was idle.

The Tigers got to Chicago starter Wilbur Wood for a run in the fourth on a single by Al Kaline, a walk and Mickey Stanley's two-out single.

The White Sox tied the score in the seventh with an unearned run off Detroit starter Joe Sparma. With one out, Jim Landis dropped Tommie Agee's fly ball for a two-base error.

Pinch hitter Smokey Burgess walked and Pete Ward, batting for relief pitcher Don McMahon, singled home Agee.

The Tigers loaded the bases with one out in the eighth on an error and two walks. But, after Mickey Stanley popped up, Chicago Manager Eddie Stanky brought in his starting ace, Gary Peters, who struck out pinch hitter Norm Cash to end the inning.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Willie McCovey blasted a three-run homer and Jim Hart a solo smash to back up clutch pitching by Mike McCormick as the San Francisco Giants beat the first-place St. Louis Cardinals 5-2 last night.

McCormick scattered six hits and locked up his 15th victory in the opener of the four-game series. The third-place Giants are eight games out and cut the Cardinals' lead to 7 1/2 games over Chicago.

McCovey's fifth-inning homer, his 19th of the season, was off loser Ray Washburn. Hart ripped his 26th homer of the year in the eighth inning.

The Cardinals scored a run in the fourth but blew a chance for a big inning. Curt Flood singled and Alex Johnson walked.

Mike Shannon singled off Jim Davenport's glove, but Davenport recovered the ball and trapped Johnson off second. Johnson raced for third and Flood was out trying to score.

Phil Gagliano got Johnson home with an infield out. Mays' first run in the first inning, but Lou Brock tied the score in the bottom of the inning. Brock singled to extend his hitting streak to 17 games and stole his 37th base. Flood singled him in.

CHICAGO (AP) — A two-base error by John Briggs in the eighth inning paved the way for the tie-breaking run yesterday and the Chicago Cubs went on to defeat Philadelphia 3-2, snapping the Phillies' eight-game winning string.

Briggs' dropped Adolfo Phillips' fly leading off the eighth, and the Cub center fielder trotted into second. One out later, Don Kessinger's third hit of the day sent him to third and he rode home on a single by Glenn Beckert.

The Cubs jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the first. Kessinger led off with a single and raced to third on Beckert's hit and run single. Billy Williams drove in one run with a single, and Ron Santo sent the other across with a sacrifice fly.

The Phils came back with one in the seventh, on singles by Rich Allen and Gene Oliver and Billy White's sacrifice fly, and tied it in the eighth on doubles by pinch hitter Doug Clemens and Tony Gonzalez.

Dick Hall, victim of Beckert's game-winning hit, took the loss, his seventh in 15 decisions. Chuck Hartenstein, second of the Cubs' three pitchers, got the victory, putting him at 6-2.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Chuck Hinton slashed a two-out double into right field in the 13th inning

Red Sox Hurler In Howard Deal NEW YORK (AP) — Ronald Klimkowski, 23-year-old right-handed pitcher now with Pittsfield, Mass., in the Eastern League, was sent to the New York Yankees yesterday by Boston Red Sox as a part of the Elston Howard deal.

Klimkowski, now in his fourth season in pro ball, was immediately turned over to Syracuse, the Yankees' farm in the International League.

Howard, one-time Most Valuable Player in the American League, was traded to the Red Sox last week for the waiver price of $20,000 and two players. The second player is not expected to be named until after the end of the season.

Klimkowski is 23, stands 6-foot-2 and weighs 190. He lives in Plainville, N.Y.

Twins-Senators MINNEAPOLIS—ST. PAUL (AP) — Bob Allison slammed

two towering home runs and a double to drive in three runs and Jim Perry cut down Washington on five hits as Minnesota beat the Senators 5-0 yesterday.

The victory moved the Twins into a third-place tie with Detroit, two games behind first-place Chicago in the American League — pending the outcome of the Tigers-White Sox game Thursday night at Detroit.

Allison belted a hanging changeup from Senator starter and loser Barry Moore 417 feet to left-center field leading off the fifth inning.

Allison also tagged Moore, now 7-10, for a 412-foot homer, his 18th, after Harmon Killebrew singled in the seventh. He also doubled in the eighth.

Jack Hernandez singled home two more Twins runs in the seventh. Moore retired the first 11 Twins to face him, and was working on a one-hitter when Allison hit his first homer.

Perry, making only his fifth start of the season, bagged his fourth victory in nine decisions. Until Allison homered in the fifth, Washington pitchers had blanked the Twins for 18 innings, including the last 14 in the 20-inning marathon.

last night and drove in the winning run in Cleveland's 2-1 conquest of Baltimore.

Vern Flier led off the Indians' half of the 13th with a single to left, and the next two went out routinely before Hinton delivered the game winning blow.

Cleveland's Stan Williams, went the distance for the victory, allowed only five hits, walking three and striking out 14, high in the American League this year. It was his second victory against one loss.

Hinton's home, on Dave McNally's first pitch in the first inning, gave the Indians a quick 1-0 lead, but Dave Johnson of Baltimore matched it with two outs in the second.

The two teams then struggled through 11 scoreless innings before Hinton settled it.

The only major scoring threat came in the eighth when McNally led off with a single and was sacrificed to second by Luis Aparicio. Williams, however, struck out Russ Snyder, walked the dangerous Frank Robinson on four pitches and got Brooks Robinson to foul out.

Reds-Dodgers CINCINNATI (AP) — Lee May ignited two early rallies with a single and a double and reliever Billy McCool stymied Los Angeles' ninth-inning uprising as Cincinnati edged Los Angeles 5-4 last night.

After Ron Hunt singled in a run in the ninth, McCool replaced reliever Ted Abernathy, who had put down a Los Angeles rally in the seventh, and, after loading the bases by walking Al Campanis, got Bob Bailey to foul out and Jim Lefebvre to fly out.

May touched off a three-run lally against loser Claude Osteen, 13-12, in the second, leading off with a single. Tony Perez followed with a base-hit — his seventh consecutive hit over the last two games — moving May to second, and May scored after an out when Ron Hunt let Don Pavletich's grounder go through him.

Chico Ruiz singled scoring Perez, and two plays later Tommy Harper singled to bat in Pavletich who had moved to third.

May sparked a one-run rally in the fourth inning by leading off with a double.

Braves-Astros ATLANTA (AP) — Mack Jones, back in the Atlanta lineup for the first time in a week, hit two home runs and drove in five runs to lead the Braves to a 10-2 victory over Houston last night.

Jones' home runs, his 12th and 13th of the season, drove in three of Atlanta's runs and three more scored on a home run by Rico Carty.

Jones' second homer, a two-run shot, and Carty's three-run blast over the centerfield fence came in the five-run seventh inning. He drove in two more with a double in the eighth.

The victory was the 13th of the season for right-hander Pat Jarvis, who has lost four. The loss left right-hander Don Wilson with an 8-8 record.

The game was tied 1-1 until the sixth inning when relief pitcher Carroll Sembera walked Denis Menke with the bases loaded forcing in the run that gave the Braves a 2-1 lead that went to 7-1 an inning later.

In the top of the eighth, Jim Wynn led off with a solo home run for Houston, his 28th of the season.

north wind and recent rains, Baxter dropped six long putts, including a pair of 40-footers on successive holes.

The 31-year-old Texas, surprised at his own showing, needed only 26 putts and missed only one putt on the 18th hole, tying the course record by one stroke.

"I can't remember the last time I led in a tournament," laughed Baxter. "I'm not sure, but I think it was the Western Open two years ago."

Baxter's old, but time-tested victory came in 1962 when he won the Cayun Classic. He also won the NCAA championship as an amateur in 1957 and was a member of the U.S. Cup team last year.

Baxter's brilliant round put him three strokes ahead of the field, of which only six others were able to crack put of 30 or 35.

Bumped at 19 were George Archer 37, Billy Martingale 36-33, Jack McCowen 34-35, Bill Collins 34-33, and Rudy Clover 32-33.

U. S. Open champion Jack Nicklaus and the great Arnold Palmer matched 71 with 70's. Included in the 70 bracket were Gardner Dickinson, Fabron Harris, Bobo Nichols, Doug Sanders and Johnny Pott.

Wind gusts of up to 20 miles per hour made play difficult, especially for the early finishers. Later in the afternoon, the wind let up somewhat.

Most of the players commented on the length of the course as Martingale and Ken Venturi were forced to make their woods 23 times during the round.

"That's two under the record of 25 birdies caused in the 1960 PGA here," said Venturi, who had a 37-34-71 and was highly pleased with his score.

The tower hitting Nicklaus needed only 15 woods and he, too, was satisfied with his effort.

"That's a much better start than I had in the 1965 classic," said Nicklaus.

"I shot an 80 that year," said Nicklaus.

"That means if you keep it up, you can cut 40 strokes from your total this year," someone remarked.

"I doubt it," said Nicklaus. "Remember I came back after 40 the following day, and I doubt very much if anyone can show to me here."

Palmer called his round up and down, and he evened off three bogeys with three birdies which came on a couple of eight-foot putts and a 20-footer.

Following today's second round of the 72-hole tournament which ends Sunday, the field of 124 will be cut to the top 70 professionals and ties. The

Knockout Win Predicted For Ortiz-Laguna Fight

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Challenger Ismael Laguna of Panama and lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz of New York perked interest in their Wednesday night fight by predicting knockout victories yesterday.

Both talked and acted as if they were convinced 100 per cent that lightning bolts will flash from their fists although not a knockout was scored in either of their two previous title scraps.

The tall and slender Panamanian won the title from Ortiz on a 15-round decision at Panama City April 10, 1965 and then lost it back the same way seven months later in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

The rubber bout is rated even in the betting.

"This won't be close," said the 24-year-old Laguna, called Tiger by his countrymen. "He's getting old now and he's ready to be taken. I'm going right after him. I'm going to put the pressure on him. He'll go by the 10th or 11th round."

Laguna told this to The Associated Press shortly before Ortiz joined him in the examining room at the New York State Athletic Commission's offices.

Told what his opponent had said the 30-year-old Ortiz retorted:

"The more heat he puts on me, the better I like it. I'll stretch him out. When? Maybe the 10th or 11th round."

Ortiz, making the 10th defense in his two-time reign as king of the 135-pound division, said he never was in better shape.

"I've never been out of shape since I knocked out Sugar Ramos last July 1," the Puerto Rican native said. "I'm down to 137 pounds and I'll have no trouble at all making the weight for a change."

Ortiz also was happy that the commission granted his manager, Bill Dalay, a second's license for the fight, the same as it did for Carlos' title defense against Flash Elorde at Madison Square Garden last Nov. 22. Ortiz knocked out Elorde in the 14th round.

This 15-rounder will be held at Shea Stadium, the first lightweight title fight to be held here outdoors in 19 years.

Redskins' Do-Everything Rook Determined to Stay

By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rookie John Love is determined to make the Washington Redskins, even if it means carrying the water bucket or lining the field. He covered about every other job in his first professional football game.

In the Redskins 37-14 victory over the Chicago Bears Wednesday night, Love played offense and defense, ran back punts and kickoffs and booted a couple of extra points.

"He's a handy man to have around," said Coach Otto Graham, adding with tongue in cheek: "He has a good chance to make our team."

Love, drafted by the Redskins in the seventh round after he starred at North Texas State, caught the eye of the coaches soon after he entered rookie camp last month at Carlisle, Pa.

The coaches gave him accolades for his past catching and moves as a flanker. Even though they visioned him as a defensive back, a position in which the Redskins were notably weak during 1966.

"He was more advanced than most of the first-year men in camp," said assistant coach Ray Renfro, another former North Texas State player.

"He constantly beat the rookie defenders."

In his professional debut, Love set up the Redskins' first touchdown when he picked up a Bear fumble and lugged it 31 yards. He also returned a kickoff 57 yards to put Washington in scoring position but the Redskins were unable to take advantage of it.

In two attempts, he returned one punt 17 yards and called for a fair catch on the other. He had no chances on the twoplays he subbed as flanker.

Asked about using him on extra points when he had Charlie Gogolak on the bench, Graham said: "Love has kicked extra points, so we wanted to see what he could do under fire. He did quite well, didn't he?"

Love had little to say after the game but the beaming smile told it all. "Boy, it felt good," he said.

"Good."

Love said he would play anywhere just so he gets in the game. "I prefer offense but it doesn't make any difference just so I play."

Graham tried not to single out any one player in the trouncing but one could envision, as the Washington coach held his postgame news conference, he had lots of plans for the rookie despite his size. Love stands only 5-foot-11 and weighs 185 pounds.

"We can use him on defense, punt returns and kickoff returns and extra points. If necessary," said Graham. "And just think with him at flanker, Bobby Mitchell at running back, Charley Taylor at split end, and Jerry Smith at tight end, look at the receivers we'll have for Sonny Jurgensen."

Graham said nothing more. He just beamed.

AVERT ATTACK ON AMERICAN BILLETS

Key Terrorists Captured

By PETER BRAESTRUP
(c) N.Y. Times News Service
SAIGON—The Saigon police reported yesterday that they had rounded up a key Viet Cong terrorist ring that had orders to blow up American billets here during the current election campaign.
"I think we have given them a hard blow," said Col. Nguyen Van Luan, Saigon's police director, in an interview at his headquarters. "Of course, they may try to infiltrate a new team from outside the city later this month."
Luan said that Special Branch plainclothesmen, having long infiltrated parts of the local Viet Cong network, began moving in on the key terrorists in early July. In five outlying precincts of Saigon, they arrested 30 agents and found six major caches of T.N.T., C-4 mines, Chinese-made grenades, and small arms.
On July 31, Capt. Pham Quang Tan, chief of the Special Branch, got his biggest catch—Nguyen Van Sam, 36-year-old commander of the Viet Cong's 69th Sabotage Unit.
As Luan told it, Tan used "proper psychology" to get a confession from the Viet Cong leader. "Sam was not responsive to the third degree. We knew that," said the colonel.
"Tan knew that Sam wanted to become a martyr, a hero executed for the cause. Tan told Sam that this would not happen: 'We'll just throw you under the wheels of a passing American truck and say you died in a traffic accident.' Not very glorious, Sam was shaken. He confessed everything."

According to Tan, Sam spent 10 years in North Vietnam before returning in 1964 to plan and direct some of the Viet Cong's biggest terrorist attacks here, including the 1965 bombing of a floating restaurant, which cost 42 lives.
Sam was captured four hours before his team planned to fire three shotguns, spraying Claymore mines at the Rex American officers' billet and the Joint United States Public Affairs Office on Saigon's crowded intersection of Le Loi and Nguyen Hue streets. Two mines were to explode at 12:40 p.m. when American officers were arriving at the Rex for lunch. The third was to go off four minutes later, presumably to decimate the crowd attracted by the first explosions.
One of Sam's platoon leaders was picked up July 27, and partly revealed his unit's plan. Other members of the unit together with a liaison team were arrested in earlier raids.
At 2 a.m. yesterday, a bomb specialist, Nguyen Van Phat, was tracked down and seized in northwestern Saigon. On him were found plans to attack a South Korean officers' billet in the city.
Coupled with search operations after curfew in various quarters of Saigon, the Special Branch raids, Luan believes, have impeded Viet Cong efforts to move explosives and trained agents into the city for the election period.

The number of grenade throwing and other terrorist acts in Saigon, in marked contrast to rural Vietnam, has fallen to a new low in recent months.
The bodies were two blocks from the Watts Towers, a backyard assemblage of steel rod spires which has gained artistic renown.
Watts is in the midst of a week-long cultural festival to commemorate bloody Negro rioting there in August 1966.
"I just can't understand it," the girls' mother, Rosalie, said just before their bodies were found. "They never stayed out after dark."
The girls, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barili, were last seen about 2 p.m. Wednesday playing near their home.

2 Sisters Found Dead In Watts

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The battered bodies of two missing little sisters who "never stayed out after dark" were found yesterday, partly nude and apparently strangled and sexually molested, in a vacant lot in the Watts district of Los Angeles.
The girls, Roberta Ann Barili, 6, and Cecilia Renee Barili, 7, had been missing since Wednesday afternoon from their neighborhood in suburban Altadena, 20 miles away.
Mrs. Peggy Richardson told police a young man knocked on her door and told her "two little white girls" were lying in a nearby lot in the predominantly Negro area. He told her he didn't know whether they were "asleep or what." Mrs. Richardson took a look and called police.
Sheriff's homicide Sgt. Walt Thornton said there "was certainly no racial implication whatsoever in the fact that the bodies were found in Watts."
"You have a 60-40 racial mixture right now in Altadena," he said.
"It appears more likely that it was the work of a sexual deviate. But we won't know that for certain until we apprehend the murderer."

Want 'Competent' Sewage Treaters

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — The Water Pollution Control Association of Pennsylvania criticized the General Assembly yesterday for what it said were efforts to soften restrictions of sewage treatment plant operators.
The legislation, HB928, originally was designed to require certification of such operators. It was amended in the House to make the certification voluntary rather than mandatory.
In a resolution adopted at the 39th annual conference here, the association said:
"If the General Assembly of Pennsylvania wants clean streams it must insist that treatment plants be operated by competent, qualified men."
"It is inconceivable that Pennsylvania would not follow the example set by its neighboring states and protect this investment in waste treatment facilities and the quality of its streams by adopting this means of assuring competent treatment plant operators."
The association elected H. Bruce Gerber of Mechanicsburg president succeeding James R. Harvey of Manahawkin, N. J.
Other new officers:
Carmen F. Guarino, Philadelphia, first vice president; George W. Keith, Pittsburgh, second vice president; David Long, Pine Grove Mills, Centre County, reelected secretary-treasurer. Ned H. Sams, Harrisburg, was named editor of the Integrator, quarterly publication of the Association.

CAMPAIGN CABINET MEMBERS

New members of the campaign cabinet for the 1967 United Fund drive were welcomed yesterday. They are (left to right) Marvin Wischer, Kenneth L. Porter, John Biekarck and Gordon Hanks, General chairman Donald Wischer does the welcoming.

SEPT. 16 IS KICKOFF

County's 1967 United Fund Drive Installs Its Cabinet

Plans for the 1967 Warren County United Fund campaign were discussed yesterday at the first meeting of the campaign cabinet under the chairmanship of Donald H. Wischer. The cabinet is composed of officers of the UF board of directors, chairmen of the soliciting divisions in the campaign, and representatives from the community.

Dates chosen for the drive to raise $166,000 this fall are September 19 to October 24. Several "pilot" campaigns in selected industrial and business firms will begin earlier, on August 29, and the "advance" pace-setters section will kick-off on September 6. The cabinet established divisional quotas as follows: Industry (corporate and employees), $100,400; Special Gifts, $24,070; Commercial, $11,500; Professional, $6,530; Government and Schools, $10,000; Residential (borough and county), $13,500.

State Police Commend Area's Good Citizens

When people show themselves to be good citizens by cooperating with law enforcement agencies, they deserve special commendation.

Yesterday morning, for the third time since before the Fourth of July, Cpl. William F. Kattner of the Warren substation has met such persons.

A lady, who had been cleaning her garage, located a box of lethal fireworks and promptly turned them over to police.

Bill Wolfersberger, public relations chairman, reported on plans for several special events this season including the selection of a "Miss United Fund" and the search for a UF Little Angel, who will be the child most nearly resembling the 1967 poster girl whose picture is seen nationally on United Fund posters.

Included among the explosives were cannon crackers, cherry bombs, M-80s, salutes and a variety of small firecrackers.

On two other occasions, Kattner said, men brought in boxes of M-80s one of which was found discarded at the top of Liberty st.

Kane Guardsmen Plans 'Snafued'

National Guardsmen of the 728th Maintenance Battalion, which includes Kane and Bradford, found their plans for a two-week encampment snafued yesterday.

An order issued Wednesday by Gov. Raymond Shafer changed the two-week summer encampment site to Indiantown Gap Military Reservation, located 21 miles from Harrisburg. The move, the Governor's office said, was made to keep the Guardsmen in Pennsylvania in the event of rioting. The training period was to be conducted at Camp Hill, Va., starting tomorrow.

As of yesterday afternoon, the Kane unit, Company D, still had not received word of the change. They were placed on standby for new orders. National Guard commanders in Harrisburg were conferring with other state officials yesterday afternoon and arrangements for the change were to be made at that meeting.

Operations at Indiantown Gap would have to start from scratch. The encampment is to begin tomorrow. Some 10,000 Guardsmen from throughout the state are involved.

From Kane, 27 vehicles were to leave Saturday. A six-man advance contingent of the company left from Lock Haven yesterday for the Virginia camp. Kane's unit is comprised of 70 enlisted men, two officers, and two warrant officers.

Other area units were to join the Kane detachment for the convoy to Virginia. They were Co. A of Lock Haven, Co. B of Bradford, and Co. C of Ridgway. More than 400 soldiers are in the units of the battalion.

The Governor's office, in announcing the change, said it in no way signified any feeling that an outbreak of violence is imminent.

Workman Injured

A Warren man is in satisfactory condition at Warren General Hospital following amputation of all his fingers as a result of an industrial accident Wednesday. John Collins, 23, of 2719 Pennsylvania ave. was working as a press punch operator at DeLuxe Metal Products Co. when the accident occurred.

Elected to Office

Despite an extensive campaign put on by Commissioner James B. Post and his supporters, McKean County Commissioner Russell Weston was elected second vice president of the Pennsylvania Association of County Commissioners, meeting in Philadelphia this week for their annual convention. Weston was a last-minute candidate. Warren County's three commissioners attended the sessions with Chief Clerk William Allen.

At Penn State

Louis P. Vizza, a superintendent, with the Warren Borough Sewage Disposal program, is at Pennsylvania State University to participate in all day sessions having particular pertinence to administration of the borough's water conservation program. The meetings convened yesterday.

Pro Shop Robbed

The Union City Country Club's pro shop was robbed sometime Tuesday night. Burglars cleaned out the entire stock of equipment valued at more than $3,000. The burglary was discovered Wednesday morning by Dennis Wilmoth, club pro. State Police Trooper John Evanko of the Corry substation said the front door of the pro shop was jammed open. After completing their work there the intruders entered the clubhouse nearby by knocking the lock completely off. Here they emptied all the vending machines.

State Jobless Claims Decrease

Both initial and continued claims for unemployment compensation decreased during the week ended August 4, according to the Bureau of Employment Security.

The 67,719 continued claims filed represent a decrease of 3,470 from the volume of one week ago but an increase of 18,452 over the number filed in the same week one year ago. Recalls to work after vacation shutdowns, chiefly in the apparel industries, accounted for the current decrease in the continued claims volume.

Initial claims filed totaled 13,243 or 1,798 less than the number filed in the preceding week. Fewer claims from the apparel, fabricated metals, and electrical machinery industry were primarily responsible for the decrease in this week's initial claims volume.

During the week 60,017 UC checks amounting to $1,994,061 were issued to regular UC claimants.

Ten Indictments Returned by Jury

The August grand jury comprised of 10 men and 10 women yesterday considered 10 bills of indictment. Nine were approved and one was dismissed.

True bills were found as follows: Silas Jack Frederick, 912 Jackson st. ext., charged with driving during suspension and driving under the influence; James Winford Sanderson, 3 Forest Park, Jamestown, N.Y., burglary; Ernest N. Barr, 64 Cottage ave., Sheffield, driving under the influence.

Also approved were bills of indictment against John Kane, 13 W. Fifth ave., hit and run; Oman Jaggi, 34 W. Main st., Corry, burglary; Leo Bibeau, 30 Widrig ave., Jamestown, N.Y., burglary; Samuel Earl Barr, 17 E. Fifth ave., driving during suspension and Opal Miles, RD 1, Spring Creek, driving during suspension.

Dismissed was the bill against Gerard Harris, RD 4, Dallas, Pa., charged with hit and run. Criminal juries will be selected Monday with trials to be held next week.

The grand jury also inspected the court house and county jail. It was noted that the scales of Justice atop the courthouse were in need of repair. Judge Alexander C. Flick Jr. thanked the jury for noticing. The courthouse was found to be generally in a good state of repairs.

It was recommended the jail shower room be completely replaced as well as galvanized steel basins in each cell block be replaced with stainless steel. The jury suggested rotting wooden window sills be replaced with modern material. The sheriff's department was complimented for its excellent prison food-serving program and cleanliness of the premises. The grand jury did not tour the Rouse Home due to the scheduled open house Sunday.

Damage Is $160 In 2-Car Crash

Property damage totaled $160 in a two-car accident investigated at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday by state police of the Warren substation.

Police said a car driven by John H. Stanton, 46, RD 1, Russell, traveling north on LR 61081 in the village of Russell, started to make a left turn. Officers said a car operated by Douglas C. Nessel, 19, also of RD 1, Russell, drove to the right to avoid a collision but struck a fire hydrant and bounced back to hit the Stanton vehicle.

Two Departments

As of Sept. 1 the Philosophy division of Humanities and Elementary Education will be separate departments at Edinboro State College. The Philosophy department will be headed by Dr. Maurice Holloway, formerly at Rockhurst College in Kansas City, Mo. Dr. Robert Connors, a member of the Education department and supervisor of elementary student teachers, will be chairman of the new Elementary Education department.

A DOUBLE BIRTHDAY PARTY in the rustic setting of Warren Penn, a beautifully picturesque picnic spot in the Allegheny National Forest, was given on Saturday, August 5th, for Jeffrey and Thomas Bean of Fairfax, Virginia. Jeff was 11 years old on Friday, August 4th, and Tom turned 9 the following Monday, August 7th. The boys with their father, Laverne Bean, are the guests of Mr. Bean's mother, Mrs. Alice E. Bean of Weldbank. Twenty young guests were present to enjoy all kinds of games, delicious refreshments, colorful party hats and balloons, and splashing in the cool waters of Morrison Run. It was a perfect day for such a party.

AND, ON MONDAY THE ANNUAL GET-TOGETHER of the Warren General Hospital Alumnae was attended by fifty-three. The affair, catered by Lewis, was held at the Wilder clubhouse in Irvine. Serving on committee were Mrs. Martha Parish of Warren, Mrs. Rose Figworth of Buffalo, Mrs. Grace Oviatt of Irvine, Miss Jessie Cuthbertson, president of the group, Warren, and Mrs. Edith Danielson, Mrs. Janet Arnold, also of Warren. The good old-fashioned dinner of whipped potatoes, green beans, cole slaw, rolls, apple pie, cheese and coffee set the tone for the entire evening. The members and five guests came from Bradford, Titusville, Tionesta, Corry, Jamestown, Buffalo and as far away as California and Florida.

THE PITTSBURGH SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA has mailed more than 20,000 season brochures to friends of the Orchestra in the tri-state area and around the world. Dr. William Steinberg is beginning his 16th season as music director of this world famous ensemble, and it is he who planned the programs to be heard from September 2nd through June of 1968. The subscription series comprises 24 Friday-Sunday pairs of concerts at Syria Mosque—Some 150 other concerts will be given in Pittsburgh and elsewhere around the country (this is the 41st Season of the Orchestra). Among the thirty-six soloists to appear during this season are: pianists Robert Casadesu, John Browning, Vladimir Ashkenazy, Mischa Dichter, Hans Richter-Haaser and Grant Johannesen; Violinists, Yehudi Menuhin, Isaac Stern, Zino Francescatti, Pina Carmirelli and Valery Kilmov; cellist Zara Nelsova. Pianist Patricia Parr will join her husband, Michael Grebanier, principal cellist of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra, and Murray Feldman, principal second violinist, in a performance of Beethoven's "Triple Concerto." And, Concertmaster Fritz Siegal will perform in Prokofiev's Concerto No. 1, in May; earlier Godfrey Layevsky, principal violinist, will be heard in Berlioz' "Harold in Italy." Season tickets go from $25 to $103, and half-season tickets are also available. Write to Pittsburgh Symphony, 207 Rockwell-Standard Bldg., Pittsburgh, Penna. 15222. Single tickets, from $2 to $6, will not be available until the close of the season ticket sale.

WOMAN'S CLUB BRIDGE had four tables of the Howell Movement in play yesterday with the average score 32. First place went to Mrs. William Moore of St. Petersburg, Florida and Mrs. James R. Valone, 41½; second, Mrs. J. Theo Valone and Mrs. Donald Conway, 34; third, Miss Mildred Blair and Mrs. Melvin Keller, 33; fourth, Mrs. William Fuellhart and Mrs. Anthony Lucia, 32. The group is once again meeting in the Woman's Club every Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: A few weeks ago you printed a questionnaire which was sent to you by a Memphis teen-ager. I felt it was a waste of newspaper space and I was deeply disappointed that Ann Landers, who has consistently shown such good judgment, saw fit to publish such trash.

I hope you will print my questionnaire which is infinitely more meaningful and constructive. Just sign me "A Parent Who Dearly Loves You."

Here is the guide for scoring:

If you can answer "yes" to five of these questions you are a good teenager. If you can answer "yes" to seven or more of these questions, you are, as the kids say, "out of sight."

1. Do you have a true friend of the opposite sex whose friendship you value as much as your best friend of the same sex?
2. Can you be trusted 100 per cent with a confidence?
3. Have you ever done a good deed and not told anyone about it?
4. Have you ever received too much change and told a clerk who otherwise would not have been aware of his error?
5. Have you ever admitted telling a lie and apologized for it?
6. Have you ever gone out of your way to make an unpopular kid feel at ease?
7. Do you remember ever having thanked someone for criticizing you?

8. Have you ever pointed out something good about a person when everyone else in the group was tearing that person apart?

9. Have you ever declined to take credit for something and pointed out that the person who deserved the credit was someone other than yourself?

10. Have you ever listened patiently to an old person and pretended to be interested, even though you were bored out of your mind?

11. Have you ever done something you would rather not have done because you wanted to serve as a good example for a younger brother or sister?

12. Do you look forward to the responsibility of love and marriage, building a home and raising a family? -- MRS. T. T. OF KLAMATH FALLS, OREGON

Dear Mrs. T.T.: Thank you for a superb questionnaire. It is far superior to the one sent by the Memphis teen-ager because it accentuates the positive and suggests some worthy goals. I appreciate your sending it to me.

Dear Ann Landers: Why are people so narrow-minded? A few weeks ago all sorts of crazy super-patriots whipped themselves into a lather because somebody burned the American flag. Why don't you tell those idiots to look up the rules. They will find that the proper method of disposing of the American flag is to burn it. Thank you for helping to educate the ignoramuses. --HIP HATTE

Dear Hat: Did you include yourself among the "ignoramuses?" If you didn't, you should have.

The flag burning incident you refer to was a flagrant act of desecration. It was a vicious demonstration of hatred for America. When "the book" says burn the flag it means burn it in private. Stupid.

Beef Dinner At Chandlers Valley

At the recent meeting of Chandlers Valley Grange No. 846 the Youngsville Fair was one of the topics on the agenda. Bessie Gardner presided as Master for the evening. Announcements included a roast beef dinner scheduled for the public this Sunday, August 13, at the Chandlers Valley Grange Hall with serving from 12 noon on. The meeting which was to have been held on August 19, will be held instead on August 26, Saturday, on account of taking down the display after the fair. Election of officers will take place at the meeting on the 26th. Earlier this month some members of the grange went bowling, and another bowling party is planned for this month.

Proper Care For Teenage Complexions

Today's young moderns have their share of problems, ranging from education and careers on the one hand to emotional concerns on the other. Of all the personal difficulties, skin problems seem to head the list. To add insult to injury, even when a skin condition has finally cleared up, it's frequently lurking in the background, seemingly anxious to reappear—undoubtedly diminished, but nonetheless troublesome.

The most common deterrents to lovely skin are blackheads, surface eruptions (pimples) and whiteheads. Although it's tempting to try to get rid of unsightly bumps and breakouts quickly by pinching and squeezing, this is the most fatal method of attack. Not only will you make your face look worse by the angry welts or bruises that result but you can very definitely mar the delicate skin surface forever.

It is preferable to use cleansing grains or a grainy scrub to keep blackheads at bay. However, if you must remove a surface blackhead, steam the skin first by applying several hot towels, then press very gently with tissues. Follow immediately with witch hazel, astringent or alcohol to close the pores. Under-the-surface blemishes must never, never be squeezed. Hands off face except for cleansing!

CLEAN-UP CONTROL

As much as normal skin may become oily at adolescence, special soaps or medicinal preparations are needed to keep the surface healthy. Incidentally, solidified or liquid mineral oil is a non-allergic, effective makeup remover for problem complexions. Wash off face immediately with astringent and-or soap and water.

If you're not able to cleanse your skin properly during the day, carry a small bottle of astringent or witch hazel with you for emergency repairs. Also convenient are facial blotting papers for oily nose and chin areas.

Aside from cleanliness, what you eat, drink and how merry you are all affect your skin.

EATING ESSENTIALS

Many skin specialists recommend avoiding certain foods during adolescence and, in some acne cases, perhaps forever. These include olives, chocolate and nuts. Also questionable are iodized salt and shellfish. Additional troublemakers are pastries, fried foods, gravies, mayonnaise and high fat cheeses.

The good foods—good for you and your skin—are fresh fruits, raw and cooked vegetables, lean meats, poultry, whole grain breads, cottage and pot cheese and foods rich in Vitamin A—liver, egg yolk, leafy green and yellow vegetables.

DRINKING DIRECTIVES

The proper amount of fluids is essential for breakout control. You need at least four glasses of water a day plus fresh fruit or vegetable juices and some milk, preferably skim. Carbonated colas and sodas are the worst, along with rich, sugary milk shakes, malts and ice-cream sodas.

MEANINGFUL MERRYMAKING

The merrier side of your life plays its role, too. The more outdoor exercise, sunshine and fresh air you get, the clearer and healthier your skin will be. At least 8 hours sleep—more if possible—eases tensions which could crop out on your face. If your skin blemishes persist after taking all precautions, see a dermatologist for specialized treatment.

THE NEW YOU who takes proper care of her complexion will reap flattering rewards in the years ahead.

JUST FOR YOU: If your lips or face swell and you break out in welts or "hives" you may be allergic to certain chemicals in your makeup or to specific foods, such as strawberries or tomatoes.

Opening lead: King of ♠

A shrewd holdup play by a defender led to a significant swing when this hand was dealt in a recent team-of-four contest. South became the declarer at a contract of four spades at both tables.

At one table, West opened the king of diamonds and continued with the queen. On the third round, East covered dummy's jack with the ace, and declarer ruffed.

A small club was led to the ace and the queen of spades was put thru for a finesse. West won the trick with the king and exited with a trump. Declarer was aware that if he drew the remaining spade and hearts did not divide evenly, he would be left with a losing heart.

He, therefore, permitted the outstanding trump to remain at large and proceeded to cash his high hearts. East showed out on the third round but was obliged to take a discard, so South was able to ruff out the four of hearts next with North's ten of spades. A club back to the king put declarer in to draw the last trump and claim his contract.

At the other table, the play proceeded identically for the first four tricks. When the queen of spades was led, however, West decided not to release the king. Without noticeable pause, he followed suit with the three.

Declarer was under the impression that the spade king was in the East hand, and he continued with the ten to repeat the finesse. West played the king this time and returned a third trump to clear dummy's holding in the suit. South was obliged to lose a heart subsequently and was set by one trick.

Perhaps, declarer should have refused the second spade finesse and tested the heart suit, however, West merits a full measure of credit for inducing his opponent to go astray.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars, FOR FRIDAY, AUGUST 11, 1967.

ARIES (March 21 to April 20)—Weave together all facts, useful information you have received and well-grounded theories. Thus you will have a sturdy frame for day's involvements. Planets stimulate competent, high-powered action.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)—Good planetary aspects. Especially favored: Cultural exchanges, pursuit of higher learning, artistic endeavors and conferences with associates to further mutual interests.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)—Concern about complex business matters may tend to make you forget some personal needs and desires for the moment. But if the former DO require extra attention, give it—and willingly. It will help you to carry on better next week.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)—Mild planetary influences. However, day has a lot going for it, if you will look sharp, be alert and careful to avoid drawing hasty conclusions. YOU can find openings others miss.

LEO (July 24 to August 23)—Situations complicated? Confusing? They don't have to be—if you will look straight into the heart of matters instead of trying to skirt them. Avoid extremes.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23)—You may run into some connivers and schemers now. Give them short shrift. The highly astute Virgoan usually recognizes such persons for what they are, but sometimes even the most perspicacious person can be taken in by a smooth talker.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23)—A potent Venus day stimulates your artistic talents, ingenuity and general mental alertness. Make the best use of helpful influences by cooperating and it will pay off shortly.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 22)—Do not undertake enterprises which you cannot possibly handle nor make promises which you can't fulfill. You will probably have an extremely active day, so it would be preferable to handle "musts" before taking on new obligations.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21)—Inure results by capitalizing upon your fine energies, and keep your pace constant but not hectic. Scrutinize all propositions carefully.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20)—Do not be indifferent to the just demands of your work day and the added obligations that go with life. Emphasize constancy, common sense, flexibility.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19)—Planets benefic, generally sponsoring new advances. A chance to exercise your talent for enterprise, which is considerable. Keep your practical side to the fore.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20)—Skepticism could defile the fully charged action this day deserves. Planets auspicious for the person who has the facts right, and uses best methods. Seek and conquer.

YOU BORN TODAY are a vivacious companion and worker, though tend, at times, to sit back and enjoy the comforts you like, forgetting that time and opportunities can pass you by. Once you marshal your literally scores of talents and assets, you can reach a high position and retain many friends along the way. But the Leoite often battles with potential allies when even he shouldn't. One thing sure: You staunchly defend principle and persons against any odds. You are idealistic, expressive. Curb a susceptibility to flattery. Birth date of: Gov. Gifford Pinchot, of Pennsylvania.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

DRUGS AFFECT BLOOD SUGAR
Certain drugs raise and lower the amount of sugar in the blood. They may produce the same shock reaction that develops when a diabetic takes too much insulin or neglects the disease and goes into coma. If this happens to nondiabetics, persons with diabetes are even more susceptible.

Large doses of cortisone-like drugs are notorious along this line because they raise the blood sugar level and create a temporary condition resembling diabetes. These steroids are used in the treatment of arthritis, uncontrollable asthma, and other disorders. This is not a true diabetes because it disappears shortly after the medicine is discontinued.

On the other hand, these drugs always worsen the diabetes so when cortisone-like compounds are needed, the dosage of insulin or the oral compounds must be adjusted.

Diuretics such as chlorothiazide used in the treatment of dropsy and high blood pressure increase the urine output of the kidneys. In some individuals the level of sugar in the blood is elevated. Many diabetics can take a diuretic without affecting their condition but we mention the possibility of side effects only as warning.

Adrenalin injections also may cause a rapid, but temporary (30 minutes) rise in blood sugar. This does not occur when this and related drugs are inhaled. Adrenalin does such a good job that it is used occasionally to raise the blood sugar when it is too low such as following the administration of insulin. Birth control pills, thyroid, and large doses of nicotinic acid also affect the level to a lesser degree.

The blood sugar is lowered by the antidiabetic pills, large doses of aspirin, and in chronic alcoholics and those with an overactive thyroid.

TOMORROW: First Aid for Drowning.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

DISTURBED CIRCULATION
Mrs. J. writes: Is Raynaud's disease a form of hardening of the arteries?

REPLY
No, altho both are circulatory disturbances. In arteriosclerosis, the passageways of all the arteries are reduced in size by a thickened and calcified wall. Raynaud's disease usually is confined to fingers and toes which become numb and white during excitement or on exposure to cold. The smaller arteries are in a state of spasm during these intervals; between attacks, the circulation is normal. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on poor arterial circulation.

KAREN KAUFMAN 'Falstaff' To Play Chautauqua

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y. — Verdi's only comedy and one of his most delightful masterpieces, "Falstaff," will be presented by the Chautauqua Opera Association today and Monday, August 14 in Norton Hall, Opera director, Leonard Treash, has difficulty concealing his admiration for "Falstaff." "It is Verdi's most significant opera," he comments, "His last, written shortly before his death, and must be considered to reflect to some extent, the philosophy of this brilliant composer."

Grand opera in the comic vein, "Falstaff" is a blending of two plays by Shakespeare, "The Merry Wives of Windsor" and "Henry the Fourth," "Falstaff, the 300 pound, old rascal, sets out to woo two wealthy, married women. The mischief starts when the merry wives of Windsor bedevil poor Falstaff until he begs for mercy and admits that he and the world are folly and that fun is the triumph of mind over matter."

Starring in the role of Falstaff is baritone, John Robert Dunlap, leading baritone of the Metropolitan Opera Company who this year sang five roles in the Lincoln Center Opera House. A young man to sing the part of the old buffoon, John Dunlap was highly praised for his performance as Falstaff with the Music Academy of the West in Santa Barbara, California two years ago. "Dunlap provided the best Falstaff I can remember," said the "Los Angeles Herald Examiner."

As Ford, the jealous husband, David Clatworthy brings to the role a voice called "lyric bel canto baritone," by the "San Francisco Examiner," Clatworthy is a leading baritone of the New York City Opera, the Opera Society of Washington and the Metropolitan Opera Studio.

Karen Kaufman, Fullbright scholar, sings Alice. Miss Kaufman is a graduate of Eastman and has sung many leading roles with Rochester's "Opera Under the Stars." Miss Kaufman sang two roles with the Chautauqua Opera Association last season.

DOG DAYS
The fellow who coined the phrase "no news is good news" obviously never wrote for a newspaper. This is the time of year when Tidoute enjoys a siesta, clubs and organizations take a seasonal recess, and nobody wants to be tied down to a schedule. But 'neath the summer tranquillity, the problems lie asimmering. Neither time nor weather chase them away and they will disappear only as they are acted upon and solved.
There is, for instance, the matter of the sewage treatment system. This is all fouled up in Washington red tape but some day there will be grants and loans available to give substance to Tidoute's approved applications. In the meantime, no one really cares much about the delay because the longer it lasts the further away is the time when local residents will start paying a sewage charge.

The postponement of the sewage treatment system is nothing new for Tidoute. It's been going on for thirty years. Had it been constructed when first proposed in the late 1930's it would have been paid for by this time and any needed updating of the system would be far less costly than will be the construction bill in these times of inflated prices.

The problem of housing is one which must be taken seriously by the borough or the time will come when an anemic tax base will mean a heavier burden on the few remaining taxpayers.

It doesn't take a Philadelphia lawyer to spell out what is happening. The housing supply does not meet the demand and as a result the population diminishes. People are moving out of town but nobody is moving in. The people who are leaving are young and employed. Too many of those remaining are in or approaching the twilight years of social security benefits or depreciated pensions.

The cost of operating the borough goes up every year, as consistently as your personal expenses rise. Actually, the borough millage rate is not high, neither is assessed valuation. The earned income tax the past couple years has enabled council to effect a three-mill tax cut but this is not a permanent situation.

As wage earners leave town and as more people retire this source of income will decrease and the burden once again will rest upon the property owner. But those able to pay taxes may be in the minority because the elderly retired will be swelling the annual exonerations list.

Tidoute needs more people in the income-earning bracket and there are many who like the easy, quiet living of a small town and prefer to raise their families in such an environment. But they can't locate here because there is no place for them to live.

The problem is not insoluble. But it must be recognized as the vital clue to Tidoute's future.

The borough of Tidoute is committed to paying for a water system and is obligated by law to provide a sewage treatment system. Tax revenue must be obtained to maintain borough streets and keep them lighted, pay for fire and police protection, and help pay for library and recreational services, to name a few of the budgetary items.

These are realities and will remain so whether there are five hundred taxpayers or fifty. But the tax bill almost always is smaller when it is divided among many people than when it falls upon a few.

There will be fewer and fewer taxpayers in Tidoute unless something is done and done soon to provide adequate housing for the many wage-earners who would choose this community for their home . . . if they could find a home.

Dance, Cycle Drill
Tomorrow Night

A street dance will be held Saturday evening, August 12, on Main street between Depot and Green streets. The music will be provided by the Melody Aids of Tionesta. An added attraction will be the Zem Zem Shriners Cyclists of Erie who will display their precision motorcycle riding.

Both events are being sponsored by Pequinot-Yeager Post 8803, VFW.

During the evening, several boys, members of the Tidoute Little League, will be passing through the crowd to receive donations to help finance a trip for the league players. The boys are hopeful that a generous response will make it possible for them to go to Pittsburgh to see a Pirates baseball game.

Tidoute Boys Seek Title

The undefeated team of Marshall & Atkin of the Tidoute Little League Association and winners of the Western Division, will be competing Saturday for the county title in the Bantam Division. They will be opposing Clarendon's Berenfield team, the Eastern Division champs.

The game will be played at Wilder Field in Irvine, one of several championship games of the Upper Allegheny Valley Hot Stove League scheduled for Saturday afternoon.

By LILY GARBER

Miss Barbara Danielson returned from a weeks trip to Canada where she was with Mrs. Lois Moravek, Mrs. Janet Moravek, Mrs. Cecil Burleigh and Miss Shelley Andrus visited Expo 67 and the Thousand Islands, and report a very enjoyable time.

Recent callers of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Garber were Mrs. Essie Pierce and Mrs. Mott of Youngsville and Mrs. Bessie Hazen of St. Petersburg, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fileger, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Garber and Mrs. Ella Gates, and Fred Dunham of Warren and Robert Brown. The boys and Mrs. Charlotte Holcomb accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Howard Garber to the Firewardens picnic which was held at Pitthole this year. There were about three hundred present, after a bountiful dinner, games were played and a drawing for prizes with many nice prizes awarded, many enjoyed the tour around Pitthole where the rise and fall of a town was short lived.

Mr. and Mrs. Clare Pierce and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ongley visited their sister, Mrs. Myrl McChesney Sunday afternoon at Falconer, N.Y. Mrs. McChesney fell sometime ago hurting herself quite badly but is able to get around with the aid of a wheel chair and walker.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Obrok and daughters spent several days at Warren, Ohio visiting relatives. Mrs. Obrok and Mrs. Ila Moranski will entertain the Scout Cadets on a "Tenting" trip Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at Canadota Lake.

The Sanford Sunday School picnic will be held Saturday at Mead Park, all are welcome. Dinner will be served at 12:30. Weiners, coffee and punch will be furnished. Mrs. Faye Scott, Mrs. Ada Beardsley and Mrs. Sonnie Garber are on the committee. Each are asked to bring own table service.

Mrs. Faye Scott and daughter Joanne visited Mrs. Scott's sister Mrs. Charles Johnson on Saturday who is a patient at the Brookville Hospital.

Miss Joanne Scott took Mr. and Mrs. Scott to Erie where he took a test and is getting along good. Charles Scott is getting around with the aid of crutches but is in considerable pain from his recent accident. Mrs. Scott thinks she missed her calling by taking up teaching instead of nursing.

Recent visitors at the Scott home were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dougherty, Mr. and Mrs. McMullin and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Cohen all of Warren, Ohio.

Mrs. Alice Rykman accompanied Mrs. Charlotte Holcomb to Jamestown, N.Y. Saturday, and called on Mr. and Mrs. William Baxter also on Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Carlson at Mathews Run on their return home.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Holcomb visited Walter Kepple at the Corry Hospital on Monday night. Mr. Kepple was brought to his sisters home in Corry from the Erie Hospital and his condition has worsened and they took him back to the Corry Hospital Monday afternoon.

A bridal shower was given for Miss Cheryl Emmerson on Monday night by Mrs. Alice Vroman and Mrs. Marilyn Holabaugh. Miss Emmerson received many nice and useful gifts for the forth coming wedding, about twenty-two friends were present for the happy occasion.

Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. there will be a meeting held in the barber shop in Grand Valley for the discussion of the sewage problem.

Saturday the Warren County Hot Stove League Benefit game will be played at Wilder Field. They have been spraying potatoes with airplanes. They land on Marshall Danielson's hill field and fill up with water from his pond and take off for a potato patch. How times have changed in the last thirty years. They sure make a lot of trips in a day.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Danielson are having a vacation this week.

Mrs. Lily Garber wishes to thank all who sent cards and gifts and visited her while in the hospital.

Watch the Witches

DAR ES SALAAM (AP) — Villagers at Mbeza on Tanzania's northern coast annoyed officials by refusing to participate in a nationwide program of beauty contests and baby shows for fear of witches who they said might kill the winners with the "evil eye."

Hamisi Chano, district chairman of the ruling Tanganyika African National Union, told them it was high time they dropped such silly superstitions.
